THE VINEYARD'S FOUR SEASONS

visit	what the lord finds
first	the tame tree decaying; he prunes and grafts	5:4
second	the grafts bearing good fruit	5:17
third	every sort of bad fruit	5:32
last	one final labor; the trees become one body	5:74

Jacob 5 is the longest chapter in the Book of Mormon — 77 verses.

SIX MOMENTS TO ANCHOR IT

- 545 BC Fifty-five years out: Jacob takes the plates (1:1)
- 1:12 Nephi dies
- 2:2 The temple sermon
- 5:1 Zenos's allegory
- 7:1 Sherem confronts Jacob
- 7:27 The plates pass to Enos

MEMORY HOOKS

- Jacob preaches reluctantly: it grieves him to be so bold before the wives and children (2:7).
- He holds up the Lamanites as the better husbands (3:5–7) — the reversal Helaman later makes national.
- The book's longest chapter isn't Jacob's: it is Zenos, a prophet the Bible never mentions.
- Sherem demands a sign and gets one (7:13–15). Korihor repeats the pattern in Alma 30.
- Jacob signs off with a French word, adieu (7:27) — its only appearance in the Book of Mormon.
