MEMORY HOOKS

Moroni thought he was finished after Ether (1:1). This whole book is extra. Three of its ten chapters are his father's words (7–9). The darkest chapter (9) sits beside the most hopeful (10). It closes at 'the pleasing bar' (10:34) — Jacob's phrase (Jacob 6:13), and nowhere else. The last word of the Book of Mormon is Amen, after 'the Eternal Judge of both quick and dead' (10:34).
